Post Pandemic revised procedures for Hygiene Appointments

The covid-19 pandemic has meant that all healthcare clinical practice has had to undergo the implementation of some very significant changes to ensure that the coronavirus infection is not transmitted during clinical procedures.

The Hygiene services within dental practices has been one of the services that has had to undergo the most significant changes. Hygiene services have been the last of all dental services to resume and for us to be able to offer our patients.

The hygienist, in order to offer a compliant service, now requires an extended appointment length, the highest level of PPE, greater support at chairside and high-volume aspiration when using ultrasonic devices.

These changes will enable us to offer a longer appointment for each patient, with a higher level of maintenance and a finer clean and polish.

The revised cost for these additional measures and benefits will now be £110.00 per visit.

We wish to reassure you that these additional measures on top of our previously established cross infection measures makes Blandy House Dental Practice an extremely clean and safe environment and meets the strictest established guidelines for clinical dental practice. The safety of everyone within our premises is our absolute priority.
